OF ETHNICITY AND STYLE

The Pujas might have just drawn to a close, but the festive feeling continues to linger. The fashion show at a city mall highlighted the brightness and style associated with Pujas. Two city-based designers showcased their ethnic collection at the do, which had models and Tolly stars sashay the ramp. Said Priti, "Bright hues are the flavour of the season. The highlight of the show was how an ethnic ensemble can make one look ravishing and elegant at the same time. I loved the thumri and Sufi music to which we walked the ramp."
